BUSINESS HOUSES ASK PERTINENT QUESTION

"We are members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. Are you?"

Attractive window cards bearing the above wording are being distributed today by Student Secretary Henry Purinton, of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Purinton is going to all of the business men of this city who are members of the Chamber and is distributing one card to each member. These cards will be placed in the windows of the various places of business operated by the members, so that the people of Glendale and visitors alike can see what business men of the place are assisting the Chamber in its work of building up Glendale.

"Yes, there are some who do not as yet realize the value of being affiliated with the liveliest institution in Glendale, which has for its object the building up of every man's business," said Secretary Rhoades today; "but it is confidently expected that ere this membership drive is over all of the business and professional men and hundreds of the private residents will have been instilled with the boosting spirit which is so essential to the up-building of Glendale as a whole."

RED CROSS CALL IS RECEIVING SLOW RESPONSE

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of the Glendale Chapter, American Red Cross, reports that the response to the call for substantial clothing to be sent the needy in central Russia is rather slow, but she hopes as people get back from vacation trips they will wake up to their responsibilities. The date set for dispatching the shipment from here is September 1. Only strong, serviceable garments are desired, both underwear and outside garments. Shoes with low heels and broad toes that are strong and serviceable, will also be gladly received.

STORMS IN COLORADO

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 24.—One man was killed, several others injured and more than a dozen fires started by a series of terrific lightning storms that swept Denver last night. A heavy downpour of rain flooded basements of downtown business houses, hotels and apartments, and marooned scores of automobiles in the downtown district. Considerable property damage was done. A bolt of lightning that struck the power plant of the Denver Gas & Electric company, left the city in darkness for an hour about midnight.

Albert G. Manley, bank cashier, was instantly killed in his home when lightning struck a ventilating pipe and leaped to the man's body. His throat was cut by the bolt, one of his shoes torn off and the imprint of his foot burned into the floor where he was standing.

M'ADOO ATTACKS HARDING ATTITUDE TOWARD ROADS

Declares President Is Mistaken—That Government Is Not "Morally and Legally" Bound to Fund Debt Which Railroads Owe United States for Betterments

By H. K. REYNOLDS
N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Harding was "clearly mistaken" in telling congress that the government owes the railroads "morally and legally bound" to fund the $763,000,000 debt which the railroads owe the United States for additions and betterments, according to the expressed opinion of Wm. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and director of the railroad administration.

"Stripped of confusing non-essentials," McAdoo declared today in a letter to Senator Stanley, democrat of Kentucky, a member of the senate interstate commerce committee, "what is proposed is that the government shall wait ten years for $763,000,000 the railroads owe it for betterment and improvement and pay immediately $500,000,000 to the railroads on account of claims for alleged under-maintenance, taking securities which in many instances may not be adequate to protect the government against loss."

Question of Policy

"It is not a question of 'legal or moral obligations,' but a question of policy."

McAdoo's criticism of the Harding scheme to help the railroads over the rocks was placed in the senate record by Senator Stanley after the former head of the railroad administration had been refused a hearing before the interstate commerce commission previous to the reporting of the administration enabling bill to the senate.

Admits President Has Power

McAdoo admitted that the Esch-Cummings act conferred upon the President power to determine, within certain limitations, how much of the debt the United States owes the railroads, may be set off against the debt the railroads owe the United States but held in the act does not contemplate that one of the debt of the United States will be set off.

"On the contrary," McAdoo went on, "the act assumes that it will be because, in express terms, it provides for funding only the remaining indebtedness of the carrier to the United States."

"It is undoubtedly clear that even the law and the contract between the parties the United States is now 'morally and legally bound to fund,' as stated by the President in his letter, the $763,000,000 debt the railroads owe the treasury for 'additions and betterments.' The President must have been misled into making such a statement."

McAdoo suggested that settlements with the railroads be effected by funding for ten years the difference between the amount which the railroads owe the government and which the government owes the railroads. This difference is estimated at $263,000,000.

"But the President proposes a new plan," McAdoo continued, "namely, to defer for ten years at 6 per cent interest the sum of $763,000,000 due by the carriers to the United States and to pay the carriers in cash $500,000,000 for alleged under-maintenance claims. The President assures us that this involved: (1) 'No added investment; (2) 'no added liability; (3) 'no added tax burden.'"

"There is an 'added investment' of tax payers' money amounting to $500,000,000, because, instead of offsetting or cancelling $500,000,000 with an equal amount of the debt the railroads owe the United States, the treasury will have to pay the railroads $500,000,000 of new money."

Added Liability

"There is an 'added liability' of $500,000,000, because the treasury must continue to lend that sum to the railroads, some with good and some with poor credit and a large loss may finally result. Thus, if the United States now cancels $500,000,000 with a part of the debt of the railroads owe it, at least to the extent of $500,000,000 the chance of loss or liability will be removed."

"There will be an 'added tax burden' unless the advance and all interests thereon are finally repaid by the railroads because there is no way for the United States to get $500,000,000 for the railroads except by taxation, unless it borrows on treasury certificates of indebtedness—the same thing, because these must be paid ultimately out of taxation."

Railroads Owe Vast Sums

McAdoo reminded Stanley that "in addition to the $1,144,000,000 the railroads owe the government for 'additions and betterments' they have received additional loans under the Esch-Cummings bill of about $300,000,000, making a total of $1,444,000,000 and declared that the public mind should not be confused by juggling of figures, manipulation of accounts or securities, or governmental agencies."

TRAIN DERAILED

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Aug. 24.—Denver & Rio Grande westbound passenger train No. 1 ran into a washed-out bridge at Gale, Colo., 19 miles east of here, shortly after 3 o'clock this morning.

Engineer Douglas Armstrong, of this city, was killed, and his fireman, Wm. Lincoln, was seriously injured, when the engine turned over and four cars piled up on the locomotive. Fifteen to twenty-five passengers were injured, some believed seriously, and it is feared that some dead bodies may be found in the coaches that are turned over.

A heavy cloudburst broke over this vicinity late last night, sending a wall of water down the valley and causing the wash-out of the bridge and a considerable distance of railroad track.

REVOLT IN INDIA

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A battle between Indian rioters and British troops in the Mallabar district, was reported in an Allahabad dispatch to the Evening News this afternoon. The dispatch said there were some casualties but the exact number was not known. This was the first engagement between the Indian rioters and the British troops that were rushed from Bangalore to restore order.

Thousands of Indian natives, all heavily armed, are in complete possession of a considerable section of the Mallabar district, having overwhelmed the troops, said a Calcutta dispatch to the Daily Express.

IRELAND REJECTS PEACE PROPOSAL

(By International News Service)
DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—Dail Eireann will reject the English peace proposals and will not make a counter offer, it was learned today from a prominent Republican leader.

The Sinn Fein leaders are convinced that further concessions might be expected.

LONDON HEARS REPORT

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Dail Eireann, which has been sitting at Dublin, is united on the Irish peace question and there is little likelihood of a split, said a dispatch from Dublin today.

The London morning newspapers, which are supporting the Irish policy of the British cabinet, again expressed optimism today and urged the public to be patient in view of the prolonged discussions.

SOCIAL MEETING OF GRAND VIEW RESIDENTS

Mayor Robinson and Delegation From Chamber of Commerce Present

A social good time, rather than business, was the aim and achievement of the Grand View Improvement Association at a meeting held in the Bottsford Warehouse last night at which members of the City Council and their wives were entertained as well as residents of the newly annexed Kenneth Road and Pacific Avenue districts. While no count was made, the estimated attendance was 250.

Mayor Robinson was called upon and said he came to sing, not to talk, and the announcement was greeted with applause.

Compliments Viewers

Councilman A. H. Lapham and S. A. Davis made brief addresses in which they complimented the members of the association on their enterprise and public spirit. Mr. Davis referred to the intention of the city to open blind streets and congratulated Grand View residents upon having no thoroughfares of that sort.

Secretary Rhoades Speaks

Secretary Rhoades of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce addressed the meeting in his forceful manner. In part he spoke as follows:

"The Chamber of Commerce was started in Glendale and is being continued for the sole purpose of assisting in the building up of the city as a whole. No section can be favored at the expense of some other section. Of course, if the residents and business men of some locality are more active and plan greater improvements for their section than do the residents and business men of some other territory, we cannot be expected to hold the more aggressive residents of the city back. We are here to help the people of this place to devise new improvement schemes and to carry out their plans. We are indeed pleased with the civic improvement spirit that is manifest by the residents of this western section. You are a bunch of live wires, if I may use the term, and it is this very spirit that causes any section to grow and forge ahead."

Work of Chamber

"The Glendale Chamber of Commerce has many good things in store for this city. It takes time to work out these various improvements, but we are not laying down on any of them. We invite and plead for the co-operation of all sections of Glendale. If we are to carry on this work of advancement as it should be carried out we must have this cooperation. I feel sure that you folks will do all you can to help us. You Grand View people are showing your willingness to do things for this city and let me assure you, ladies and gentlemen, we are with you and will do everything we can to help you carry out your plans."

Sanders Discourses

Assistant-Secretary Sanders was also on hand and with him came that same old good-natured smile, by which all of the people of this place know him. In part he said:

21 AMERICANS LOST ON GIGANTIC DIRIGIBLE RECENTLY PURCHASED

Six Survivors of Crew Saved After Ship Buckles and Half of Flaming Blimp Falls on Hull, England—Pedestrians Shocked by Concussion. Report Fifty Miles from Scene of Catastrophe, Which Occured on Yorkshire Coast Early This Morning During Final Test.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The giant blimp ZR-2, purchased from England by the United States for $2,000,000, was wrecked over the Yorkshire coast at 7:10 this morning. Following two terrific explosions the airship buckled and fell in flames into the Humber river. There were 21 Americans on board.

The ZR-2 had begun her final trial flight at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning. This morning she was believed to be preparing to land when the disaster took place.

The explosion occurred in the dirigible as it was passing over Hull and so violent was the concussion that many pedestrians in the streets of Hull were swept from their feet. It was heard at Grimsby, 50 miles distant.

At 7:20 o'clock it was reported there were only six survivors of the ship. The airship was flying at a great altitude when the disaster happened.

She was seen to emerge from the clouds and, as the explosion occurred, broke in two parts. One part rose in the air and the other fell into the river.

The descent of the falling half was unaccountably slow on account of the weight of the material.

She carried a crew of 49. One injured man was picked up near the river and was rushed to the hospital.

CITY MANAGER DISCLOSES BIG PLANS FOR GLENDALE

To Cut Through Blind Streets, Add Extensions, Open Orange Street, Lengthen Patterson Avenue to Valley Road, Widen Los Feliz, Extend Palmer Avenue

City Manager Reeves is buckling down to his task with great energy, realizing that there are many problems before him, especially in the way of few streets, changes in old ones, and extensions. During the past five years many meritorious projects of this kind have been outlined but not carried to completion.

Some of the Problems

That of West Broadway and Commercial street has been abandoned, but the others still loom large on the horizon. The opening of Orange street from Lexington to Doran; the extension of Patterson avenue east to Brand and west to San Fernando road at the Grand View avenue intersection of the latter; the widening of Los Feliz road from the Southern Pacific tracks to Glendale avenue; the extension of Palmer avenue east to Verdugo road from Adams, and of Garfield avenue to the same terminus, from Glendale avenue; the changing of Brand boulevard near the south end to enter San Fernando road by a graceful south-easterly curve, and the joining of Forest street with the extreme southern section of Brand boulevard by a similar curve; connecting the north end of Brand boulevard with Kenneth road by a long northwesterly curve; extending Mountain street around the base of the Verdugo mountains, with Verdugo canyon road; extending Monterey road from Verdugo road along the south bank of the wash as far as Brand boulevard, or maybe Pacific avenue, then north of the same stream and northwest, following the Pacific Electric Burbank line to the west city limits; extending Wilson avenue west from Pacific avenue to San Fernando road; extending Raleigh street east to Adams, Maple east from Sycamore canyon boulevard to Verdugo road, Chestnut from the same to the same, and also west from Adams to Everett and possibly west from Granada street to Glendale avenue; paving Sycamore canyon boulevard from the western terminus of Sycamore canyon road to Acacia avenue. This may seem to be an ambitious program, but could it be carried through it would add greatly to the city's prestige.

Added Projects

Some smaller projects that have recently been added to the original program, are the extension of Ivy and Hawthorne streets from Pacific avenue to San Fernando road, and Kenilworth avenue from Broadway to Harvard street. Others that should and doubtless will be considered ere long, will be the opening and improving of Kenilworth avenue to form an unbroken street from Riverdale drive to the wash, and possibly to the foothills, and the same action to make Pacific avenue a paved thoroughfare from San Fernando road to Kenneth road. Only one small section of Pacific avenue is yet closed, and that is between Broadway and Lexington drive.

GLENDALE NOW STATE OFFICER

Eustace B. Moore of South Maryland avenue has returned from San Francisco, where he went as a delegate to the convention of the Improved Order of Red Men, and was elected to the state office of great trustee. Three state trustees handle the finances of the order in California, and Mr. Moore is the only trustee from the south. He has been a member of the order for 21 years.

MEXICO, Mo., Aug. 24.—"The curfew tolls the knell of parting day." It also tolls the knell of "parting ways." Nine o'clock now is the limit for small boys on the streets here. When the curfew rings those under 18 years old must be missing from the thoroughfares.

A GUEST POEM IS SET TO MUSIC BY MISS MOTTERN

Admirer of Famous Poet
Secures the Score From Glendale Composer

On the eve of going away, in the press of farewell engagements and the flurry of packing for her journey to New York, Miss Elizabeth Mottern, whom Glendale claims as one of her most talented young musicians, snatched enough time to compose a musical setting for one of Edgar A. Guest's more notable poems, "Let's Be Brave."

"She did it in response to the request of Miss Mary Merritt of this city, who is a great admirer of the verse of this poet, and who is his personal friend. Through patient effort she has been instrumental in organizing kindred admirers into 'The Clippers' Club,' devoted to promoting a knowledge of Mr. Guest's work. This organization met in the auditorium of the Express building in Los Angeles last Saturday to celebrate the fortieth birthday of the poet.

Music Wins Applause
In the program given before the more than one hundred persons present, including literary people of distinction, the poem mentioned—"Let's Be Brave"—was charmingly sung by Miss Mottern, who played her own accompaniment. It was easily the outstanding number of the afternoon, and so perfectly did it express the spirit of the poem that all who heard it were deeply moved. It was the more remarkable because Miss Merritt did not tender her request for the composition until Thursday afternoon when she took the poem to Miss Mottern. The girl thought about it at intervals during the night and in the morning made a rough draft of the composition. In the afternoon she copied and sang it for Miss Merritt, but did not have time to arrange an accompaniment, and therefore improvised it when she sang Saturday afternoon.

Only Guest Score
So far as known it is the only verse of Mr. Guest's that has been set to music. It was the first poem written by him following the death of his daughter, Margery. "Miss Mottern intends to copyright the air and send an autograph copy to Mr. Guest, whose poem follows:

Let's Be Brave
Let's be brave when the laughter dies
And the tears come into our troubled eyes,
Let's cling to the faith and the old belief
When the skies grow gray with the clouds of grief,
Let's bear the sorrow and hurt and pain
And wait till the laughter comes again.

Let's be brave when the trials come,
And our hearts are sad and our lips are dumb,
Let's strengthen ourselves in the times of test
By whispering softly that God knows best,
Let us still believe, though we cannot know,
We shall learn sometime it is better so.

Let's be brave when the joy departs
Till peace shall come to our troubled hearts,
For the tears must fall and the rain come down
And each brow be pressed to the thorny crown;
Yet after the dark shall the sun arise,
So let's be brave when the laughter dies.

The club was addressed by Messrs. E. A. Dickson, city editor, and F. W. Kellogg, business manager of the Express, who voiced their approval of the newly organized club and expressed the hope that it would arrange for the entertainment of the poet when next he visits Los Angeles.

Urges Reproduction in Braille
Mrs. Patricia Anderson, who had charge of the program, read a letter from a blind woman expressing the ardent wish that the poems of Guest might be published in braille for the pleasure of the blind.

Readings from the works of the poet were contributed by Cooper Culver and Mrs. Louise Pinkley, and Mr. Rimmer of Pasadena read an original poem dedicated to Mr. Guest. The club also voted its approval of a telegram of congratulation which was sent to the poet at his home in Detroit.

Name of Club
The significance of the name chosen for the organization was explained by Miss Merritt, who said that the poems by Edgar Guest possessed by herself and many others, have been clipped from the newspapers in which they have been published, and many have never been included in the collected poems in book form. She declared that there are not less than thirteen hundred of these fugitives of verse dashed off by the facile pen of Mr. Guest that are outside the five volumes he has printed.

Universal Appeal
As an example of their universal appeal she mentioned the use made by Mr. Ripley, superintendent of the

IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE!

VACATION'S OVER and everyone is now ready to settle down again! But the house, too, needs some attention! Now, really the time to have it gone over, repapered and painted and just generally "dressed up" in all its cheeriest raiment or the winter months! L. H. ALLISON, of 105 West Broadway, is just the person you're looking for, as he is in a position to advise you as to the best colors for winter and etc. You know, of course, that the general color effect has a great deal of influence on the whole attitude of the family, and above all things the wall paper which you select should be of a bright and cheerful mien—but not flashy or startling—and it should be toned down with drapes and other furnishings to make it soothing! Mr. Allison, whose profession is Interior Decorating, will be able to take care of the entire change—and most reasonably, too. For the amount of money expended, a change of wall paper will produce the most pleasing effect and show the efforts more favorably than any other change!

The addition of a little kerosene for washing windows gives a brilliant polish. It is especially good in winter, as the oil prevents the water from drying before the cloth can be brought into play.

ULTRA-SMART CHAPEAUX
Just such chic models as these in duvetyne and velvet, are playing an important part in the fall showing at the YARBROUGH HAT SHOP, 108 West Broadway.

There are charming creations—just the very last word from New York—in many attractive shapes—some large and some small—but all ultra-smart! And the new gayly colored feather turbans are lovely, too!

THERE THEY WILL BE SHOWN TO ADVANTAGE!
THERE'LL BE REAL, LIVING MODELS, displaying the gowns from HATZ'S, at 132 South Brand boulevard, at the Glendale Merchants' Exposition! And Hatz's showing of Correct Women's Wear will be one to be remembered with a little thrill of pleasure, for many months to come! Yes, indeed, for there are the very latest models from Paris and New York. Gowns, for street and afternoon wear are a revelation and charming in their very simplicity, while the fall suits are quite the most modish I have yet seen! Many of them are beautifully embroidered and finished with jaunty squirrel chokers!

well-known poem: "It Couldn't Be Done." Mr. Ripley had it printed on a New Year's card of greeting which he sent to every employee of the road. Not knowing the name of the author he marked it "Anonymous," and later Miss Merritt wrote him an "anonymous" note telling him she was sure he would like to know that it had been written by Edgar A. Guest. The poem reads:

It Couldn't Be Done
Somebody said that it couldn't be done,
But he, with a chuckle, replied
That maybe it couldn't, but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried.
So he buckled right in, with the trace of a grin
On his face; if he worried, he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done—and he did it.

Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do that—
At least no one has done it."
But he took off his coat, and he took off his hat,
And the first thing we knew he'd begun it;
With the lift of his chin and a bit of a grin,
Without any doubting or quidit;
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done—and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done;
There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousands to point out to you, one by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you.
But just buckle in with a bit of a grin,
Then take off your coat and go to it,
Just start to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done"—and you'll do it.

Misunderstanding
Mrs. Wiggs—Ain't it going to be awful when the soldiers get back?
Mrs. Figs—Whatever do you mean?
Mrs. Wiggs—Why, they say the boys will all come home demoralized.

Everyone is eager for a new "hit" from the Ziegfeld Follies—and from the 1921 revue comes an enchanting and original bit of fox-trot music—"Bring Back My Blushing Rose," with a real attraction in the introduction of "Sally, Won't You Come Back!" The colors, which Fashion has decreed, shall lead for fall will, of course, all be represented! But the evening gowns are my especial joy! Just the daintiest and most adorable frocks imaginable! There are some handsome gowns in black, with nary a bit of color save a dashing American Beauty Rose at the girdle, and then there's a perfect love of a dress in the popular new shade of lavender—but oh! most wonderful of all is a gown fashioned of a delightful salmon pink! You'll want to visit Hatz's booth again and again, during exposition week, and then drop into the store and look over their new fall stock of the very latest, for yourself!

HIS STOCK IN TRADE—
THE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF A MAN'S DRESS is a good-looking collar—and it is certainly his best "stock in trade" when first impressions upon others are considered! If you buy your collars from ROBINSON'S MENS SHOP, at 116-A South Brand boulevard, you will always be at the height of fashion—for they only carry the most up-to-date and well known of the nationally advertised lines! And you know that the E. & W. Brand has always been, and is always considered, the highest grade popular priced collar a man might wear! Well, Robinson's are now selling the S. & W. collars at 20c apiece or three for 50c! They also carry a complete line of E. & W. soft collars for both men and boys in all sizes—from twelve up! There has been a price adjustment on these soft collars, too! 20c and 25c is the figure now set on the usual quality and the regular 50c values in the new leading styles have been marked three for $1.00! This is certainly your opportunity to lay in a supply of fine collars for both yourself and your son—enough to last until next summer again! Watch for Robinson's Booth at the Exposition, for it will surely interest you!

Afternoon dresses are in crepes and in velvet, sometimes with floating points contrasting with the foundation.

side—"Learn To Smile," is a hitting dance number, introducing one of the most popular selections from Broadway's favored musical—show—the O'Brien Girl—and when played by Carl Fenton's Orchestra, with their characteristically unique effects it is "a winner"! And, too, at the NEW ARTISTIC BRUNSWICK SHOPPE, at 126 South Brand boulevard, we find Isham Jones again coming to the front with another of his delightfully oriental recordings—"To San," occupied with "Emaline-Juanita," both fox trots, with rare musical quality and infinitely appealing to both young and old alike! Step in at the Artistic Brunswick Shoppe, and ask to hear the new September Brunswick records, now on sale!

MARTHA MALICIA

TO MAKE YOUR HOME LIVABLE!

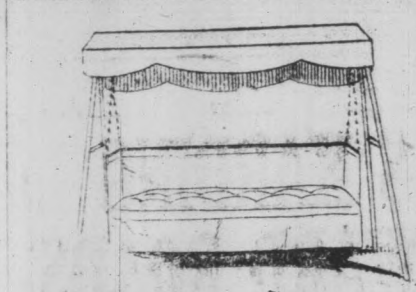

TO ROMP AND PLAY on the thick carpets and rugs is the chief pastime for the kiddies during the winter months, but your doctor will tell you that most children's ailments come from the germs which they inhale through the dust which collects in the thick nap! But a very few minutes a day with a Premier, the "first among cleaners," will keep this indoor playground, spic and span, and free from all that dangerous dust and dirt—much safer for not only the little tots but the grown-ups, too! And, you know, the Premier, sold by the GLENDALE ELECTRIC COMPANY, of 136 North Brand boulevard, is back to its pre-war price—only $45.00—and sold with an ironclad guarantee, too!

A strip of picture molding, a trifle longer than the width of the bed and painted to correspond with the woodwork, tacked to the wall will prevent the bed from scratching the walls when moving them. The castors will roll against the molding and there will be no danger of injury to the wall paper.

TO CLIP INTEREST COUPONS IS A MOST FASCINATING OCCUPATION

TO SAVE DOES NOT NECESSARILY mean that one must deprive himself or herself of all of the things which he most wants—but it is the little things which are really not at all vital nor important, out which absorb countless dollars during the month! It is a known fact that no man ever became wealthy who did not save the nickels and the dimes—and then the dollars will take care of themselves! Just form a habit of depositing a small amount each week, in a savings account at the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF GLENDALE, and you'll be simply amazed at the rapidity with which it will grow and grow—and the first things you'll know you will look back and wonder why you hadn't started to save earlier in your career! And through the First National Bank you will be able to avail yourself of opportunities to invest your accumulated savings where they will double and treble in just no time at all! You see, the First National Bank, is The Glendale Bank, having grown up with the town, and consequently you'll find their officials always most courteous and in a position to help you in any of the little financial problems which present themselves.

AND AT SUCH REDUCTIONS
IMAGINE THIS COMPIEST SORT of a porch swing on the veranda of your own bungalow, on one of our glorious California evenings! Isn't it truly a delightful picture? Swings, just such as these are being offered at a great saving at the ENTERPRISE FURNITURE COMPANY, at 216 East Broadway, for the remainder of this month! And, refrigerators, too, have been reduced at the Enterprise—you can buy a dandy big Ice King Refrigerator for only $15.00, or a less cool cooler as cheap as $4.00 now!

AND THINK OF THE JOY IT WILL BRING

"IF WE DIDN'T HAVE those ugly old carpets on the floor, we might have a dance here!" But, you can, have a dance in your home just as well as not! Of course, just call the GLENDALE HARDWOOD FLOORING COMPANY, of 304 East Broadway, and they'll take up the wooden floor and lay a smooth new hardwood flooring that you'll be proud to ask your friends to dance on!

WOMAN FINDS SALT DIET IS NO BOON TO CHICKENS

(By International News Service)
CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 24.—Because a Bridgeport, W. Va., woman mistook the salt container in her kitchen cabinet for the sugar bowl she had lost all hope of being successful in the poultry business, for this season at least. When the woman, whose name is withheld by request, was making a cake at her home she put in two cupsful of what she thought to be sugar in the mixture. Not until the cake was baked and tested by members of the family was it discovered that the "sugar" was salt. Then she threw the cake out in the yard. The chickens ate it. When the family arose the next morning they found twenty-one chickens "sprawled about—dead."

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB WILL FORM CHORUS

Next Thursday evening at the home of Miss Veda Knapp, 214 West Chestnut street, members of the Junior Music Club who wish to form a chorus will meet for organization and a possible rehearsal under Mrs. Charles A. Parker, who is to direct it.

The Madrigal Club which Mrs. Parker organized about two years ago, has developed into a very fine musical organization and the Junior Music Club is sure she will do wonders with the singers it has enrolled.

The aim will be to enlist all the young people in the city who enjoy chorus work and all such are invited to meet at the home of Miss Knapp, whether they are members of the club or not.

This Junior auxiliary of the Glendale Music Club has been doing wonderful work and is so full of pep and ambition that the senior organization is immensely proud of it.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24.—

How Soviet Russia planned to conquer Turkestan and use it "as a bridge to India," and the progress they are making in the Near East, Persia and India itself is disclosed in reports reaching here of the work of Commissar Eliawa, of the Department for Eastern Propaganda in Moscow and head of the Turko-Commission to Asia Minor. Eliawa was also sent to Angora with presents from Moscow to the Turkish Communists.

Hatred of Great Britain characterizes the whole report of the Commissar. The British soldiers in Baku are spoken of as "impudent mercenaries," and predictions are made that the Bolsheviks "will dispose, not of hundreds of thousands, but of millions of their Asiatic fellow-combatants."

"John Bull knows this and already shows his teeth, powerless in the sight of the bride we shall throw over him in India," the report declares.

"Create Political Difficulties"

"Naturally neither Moscow nor we of the Turko-Commission labored under the illusion that the Mahometans of Turkestan were prepared to adopt Socialism," the report continues. "We believed and know, however, that these same Mahometans, if even only an outward adoption of Bolshevism could be achieved, would play the part of a bridge over which the Soviet Government could reach the neighboring Eastern countries, and that it would thus be possible to create political difficulties for the Entente, and especially for England."

Our network of agitation gradually spread, and today its branches stretch to Afghanistan and from there to Northern India."

The first "fortress of Mahometan Absolutism" claimed by the Soviet missionaries was Khiva. The Khan of Khiva fled and a local Communist regime was established which concluded a treaty with the Russian Commissars.

"Attention was then directed toward Afghanistan. All the Ameer's attempts to combat the movement failed and the renewal of friendly relations with the English on the basis of a united front against Bolshevism only served to alienate the sympathies of his encourage at Court. This delighted the agitators, who in the Autumn were able to report the erection of a Bolshevik radio station at Kabul."

"In Samarkand," the report continues, "we have the best school for the training of propagandists and of members of the organizations." In nine months this school turned out 3,500 trained instructors, including 950 Hindus, 460 Tajiks, 650 Turkomans and Kara Kirghises, 1,300 Sarts and Afghans, 270 Bokharans and Khivans, and 250 Mongols, Tibetans, Kurds and so forth. Chief attention was paid to the representatives of the Indian races, and only fully converted Socialists were sent to India.

The propaganda school is not confined to Turkestan, but has branches throughout Southern Asia, as far as China. The most valuable classes are those recently established in Benares and Delhi, which are working splendidly under the eyes of the English, the report states. Founded in July of last year, the organization within three months contained 31,000 active members paying subscriptions, 120,000 pounds sterling had been collected, and the regular monthly subscriptions amounted to 15,000 pounds.

Eliawa stated that propaganda work in the Caucasus was impeded by incessant revolts and because the Cossacks and peasants of the Northern Caucasus, under the influence of the "Whites and Social Traitors," resisted all Soviet reforms. The Red Army therefore decided to cut the Gordian knot by concentrating on Azerbaijan. The Turko-Tartar population was quickly expelled by Turkish agents and Russian instructors, who complement themselves upon having chosen the right moment to assault the prestige of the Entente among the inhabitants. The Bolshevik landing at Enzeli, the subsequent advance into Persian territory and the operations at Derbent and Petrovsk are quoted as victories which led up to the formation of a Soviet in Baku and a Red base in the Caucasus.

VOLUNTARY GRAPES

Many vacant lots on both sides of Doran street west of Pacific avenue are still covered with grape vines and though never irrigated, they still produce abundantly. They are of the sweetwater and wine grape varieties. They are picked daily by residents and by autoists who come out from Los Angeles yearly to get free grapes.

Time was when all the section west of Central avenue and south to Lolita avenue was one great vineyard, producing thousands of pounds of fruit yearly.

THESE VALUES WILL BE APPRECIATED!

JUST IN TIME for your preparation for the holidays is the end of the month sale at FISHER'S VARIETY STORE—206 East Broadway! Commencing Friday morning and continuing until Tuesday night there will be some really exceptional values offered in enamelware at only 49c! And the usual $2.25 value in quart aluminum preserving kettles may be bought for $1.49! Then there are any number of other items along the lines of household necessities that will be marked at special prices for these four days, only! Fisher's Month-End sales are never passed up by those who are good buyers!

Natural finish willow or wicker furniture should be thoroughly washed with warm soapsuds containing enough borax to make the water soft. The reeds should be scrubbed with an ordinary scrubbing brush and wiped off with a dry cloth and set in the sun until all dampness has disappeared.

TO OWN YOUR OWN HOME IS SUCH A SATISFACTION

INSTEAD OF SUPPORTING YOUR LANDLORD, why not use the money which you ordinarily spend for rent to your own advantage? At J. F. STANFORD'S, of 112 1/2 South Brand boulevard, you can buy a home, just the sort of a place you've always thought you'd like to have—most reasonably and on easy terms, too! By making a small down payment the balance may be arranged as rent—and within a year or so you'll be absolutely independent—and, besides, its such a satisfaction to know that your home is your very own! Mr. Stanford will be glad to show you any property he may have!

OLD FOLKS WILL HAVE OWN PARTY

Says C. H. Parsons:

"There are in Southern California a great many people who were born over seventy years ago. These people are not old in spirit, and they like to meet for a picnic reunion as well as the younger folks. So, if you are over seventy, this is your invitation for yourself and all your friends past that age to attend, the annual picnic reunion of all the people in Southern California who are past seventy years of age."

"This, our tenth annual, will be held in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, Saturday, September 3, 1921. Please remember, it is held each year the first Saturday in September. It is an all-day picnic with a basket dinner at noon, an informal program following. Bring your dinner; also cup and spoon. Coffee with cream and sugar will be provided free for all. Come as early as you can and have a happy day with these jolly old-young people. It is intended for those over seventy, but if you need help to carry your dinner, or to aid you, why, just bring any friend along. Pass the word on to just as many as you can, so all may know of it. If you are not yet old enough, give this to someone who is. If you have an extra invitation, give it away; do not waste it."

"For further information, call up C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies. Phone 10261, or see him or write to him at the Continental National Bank, Ninth and Main streets."

YOSEMITE TRAIN CHANGES

1,000 NEW MEMBERS IS C. OF C.'S OBJECTIVE

Drive Starts for Recruits Today—Intensive Campaign Is Outlined for Purpose of Interesting All Business Concerns in City's Growth and Prospects

"One thousand new members" will soon be the cry of the members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary, feels confident that by next Thursday noon, the time for the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the one hundred member drive will be a thing of the past. In other words the one hundred new members will have been enrolled. The 42 new members accepted yesterday brought the number up to sixty-eight.

Mass Meeting Called
It was decided by the Chamber of Commerce to start the 1000-member drive at a gigantic mass meeting to be held in the large tent which is to house the Glendale Merchants' exposition, beginning Saturday night. This affair will be held September 6. There will be an elaborate program with speeches, music, etc.

At a meeting yesterday a committee composed of Peter L. Ferry, David Gregg and J. G. Huntley was appointed to confer with the regular railroad committee of the chamber to see what can be done toward getting the Southern Pacific trains to stop at Glendale.

L. J. WOOD FINDS PRESS ADS BRING RESULTS

Mr. L. J. Woods of the Western Wholesale Paint Company, 710 East Broadway, says that Press Ads certainly do bring results.

On a recent ad for a vacant lot, or for an exchange of Los Angeles property, he was literally swamped with replies and set the Press office an S. O. S. to kill the add, for he had been able to find just what he wanted, and felt that a secretary would soon be needed to take care of the replies.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS AT SEAL BEACH

A group of Camp Fire girls which included Alice Sarrow, Mildred Thompson, Mary Cook, Josephine Farnham, Emma Cooper and Juanita Morgan, went to Seal Beach Monday for a week's outing. They were accompanied by their guardian, Mrs. Viola Andrews, who had engaged a cottage for them, and later in the week they will be joined by other girls of the camp, including Miss Dorothy Watson, who will go down Saturday, for the week end.

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY FAIR IS PREMIER SHOW

Financial and Advisory Committee Strengthened by Addition of Wealthiest and Most Influential Men of District, Who Recognize Importance of Exposition

With the growth of the San Fernando Valley Fair, which will be held at San Fernando, September 19 to 24, to the point where it will certainly be the biggest and most important fair to be held in Southern California this year, the financial and advisory committee has been augmented and strengthened by adding ten of the wealthiest and most influential men in the valley.

These men have gladly joined the financial committee and will give their time and utmost efforts to make this fair truly representative of the vast empire of Southern California, and, in this way, do their bit to help build the San Fernando valley. These men are:

F. W. Prince, vice-president of the First National Bank, San Fernando.

Fred Weddington, president of the Lankershim Bank.

James Fulcher, large deciduous fruit grower and realtor, Lankershim.

Charles Wardlaw, vice-president of the First National Bank of Van Nuys.

E. R. Holloway, owner of one of the largest hatcheries in the state, Van Nuys.

Alfred Brant, owner of Brant Rancho and breeder of Guernsey cattle.

A. Jeffries, rancher and beet grower.

J. H. Douglas, president of the First National Bank of San Fernando.

M. H. Adamson, Adohr Stock Farms.

To Give Service

It is known that three other influential men of the valley will also be asked to serve on this committee, and with these twelve men added to the present committee, the ten towns of the valley will have a financial and advisory committee capable of handling any project, no matter how large. Those having the promotion of a great annual Southern California fair in the San Fernando valley most at heart, may feel, now, a definite prospect of its accomplishment.

At a last meeting in San Fernando last Tuesday, representatives from all points of the valley decided to raise $15,000 for additional expenses in promoting the big fair.

The Chamber of Commerce of San Fernando pledged itself to raise $6000 of the added amount. Interest and enthusiasm for the big event was so intense that, Saturday night, four days later, saw the entire amount, in cash, in deposit in the bank. The new members of the financial and advisory committee have pledged themselves to raise the remaining $9000 and they are confident of having it subscribed before Saturday night of this week.

Departments Grow

Every department of the fair is growing splendidly and at the present writing, it would be hard to say which of the big departments will take first honors.

The Los Angeles county stock show, which is a part of this year's fair, and which is in charge of N. B. Adamson, has made great strides this week and it definitely promises to be as large or larger than the live stock show which was held last year in Exposition park in Los Angeles.

The staging of a show of this size and with entries from the most important breeders of thoroughbred stock in Southern California, will reflect great credit to the San Fernando valley and to the committee in charge of this division.

List of Entries

A partial list of the entries received thus far include the following: Holstein cattle—Fred Hartsook Ranch, Lankershim; the Maxwell Farms; Anita Baldwin's Santa Anita Rancho; Santa Monica Dairy Co.; the Clapp herd; Earl Graham, Compton; Carl Ray, Lankershim. Guernsey cattle—Brant Rancho; Adohr Stock Farms; Dr. A. B. Wessels, Chino, San Diego county, and possibly Walter Dupee, of Santee, San Diego county. Jerseys—The Windsor Ranch and Carl Ray's Ranch.

The committee in charge of the cattle division will endeavor to feature some stunts that will be of particular interest to practical commercial dairymen. At previous fairs in Southern California, all the interest has centered around the thoroughbred cattle and little, if any, attention has been paid to the practical dairyman. In this class, a three-day contest for butter fat production has been arranged and the cow testing association will feature an event.

In the department for swine, exhibits of Durocs will be made from the Brant Rancho, Your Duroc Farm, Whittier, and Dr. J. C. Craig, Edgewood, Santa Susanna and the Ruth Ranch of Ontario, will exhibit Berkshires and LeRoy Moser will exhibit Poland Chians.

Alfred Brant, who is in charge of the sheep, says they are scarce, but he promises to have a fine representation of good fat sheep, and M. J. Sturgis says he is being flooded with goats, and that he will have more than 100 goats on the opening day.

Altogether it is estimated there will be between 800 and 1000 animals entered in the live stock division, including horses and mules.

Adult and junior judging contests will be a special feature of the live stock show. The junior judging contest will be held by W. G. Waterhouse of the County Farm Bureau, in connection with the Board of Education's Junior Livestock Club work. Peculiar interest centers around the junior judging contest from the fact that the teams are not alone contesting for the honors from this fair, but they are at the same time competing against the junior clubs at the state fair at Sacramento and the winners will be sent to the National Livestock Show at Minneapolis.

STUDENT BODY AT UNIVERSITY SHOWS FAIR INCREASE

Third Day of Registration Shows 63 Per Cent of Last Year's Students

BERKELEY, Aug. 24.—At the end of the third day of registration approximately 63 per cent of all undergraduates who were in attendance at Berkeley last year returned to the University of California, according to a statement of James Sutton, Recorder of the Faculties. The normal registration of undergraduates is 61 per cent, showing an increase of two per cent this year notwithstanding the new and higher incidental fee and the insistence of the University authorities on a high scholarship standing.

Undergraduates Decrease

The registration of new undergraduates shows that there is a decrease of 15 per cent in comparison with the number entering at this time last year. Officials of the University are gratified to see this decrease in the lower division owing to the lack of space and facilities for handling of new students.

The total registration at the end of the third day was 8915 students, undergraduate and graduate. This is an increase of 34 over the registration of last year for the same period.

Dr. Weber Heads Citrus Station

At the August meeting of the Board of Regents of the University, Dr. H. J. Webber was appointed Professor of Citrus Culture and director of the Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside. Dr. Webber, who at present is at Hartsville, South Carolina, was formerly Professor of Plant Breeding and Director of the Citrus Experiment Station in the State University, and is regarded as the outstanding man in America, in his particular field. He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Science, Master of Arts, Doctor of Agriculture, and Doctor of Philosophy, and is a member of the American Genetic Society, and other societies for the promotion of agricultural science. Dr. Webber is the author of authoritative articles on plant breeding and agriculture, the Encyclopedia Americana, the New Standard Dictionary, and the Cyclopaedia of American Agriculture, in addition to numerous papers published in periodicals and proceedings of societies. A total of seventy-six appointments was made by the Regents. Gifts aggregating $5,753.08 were received and accepted.

Courses for Practical Farmer

A number of specialized short courses are offered by the College of Agriculture of the University this fall to meet the needs of the practical farmer, stockman, dairyman and orchardist.

Short courses will be given at the University Farm School at Davis, in Poultry Husbandry, from September 26 to November 5 and Deciduous Fruits from November 28 to December 10. There are five weekly courses offered in Animal Husbandry: Beef Cattle, Swine, Horse, Dairy Cattle and Sheep production. The first two of the Department of Lectures, room are scheduled October 17 to 22, and the last three from October 24 to 28.

The recent short course on Fruit Products given at the University, under the Division of Fruit Products attracted more than fifty people from all sections of the state.

Information concerning the short courses will be sent upon application to the Dean of the College of Agriculture, University of California.

Cut Extension Fees

H. C. of L.—The L in this instance meaning lectures, has been reduced by the University Extension Lecture department, and lecturers and dramatic readers from the University at Berkeley may now be secured throughout the state for a $25 fee, according to the announcement made by Miss Ethel Strohmeier, secretary, 301 California Hall, Berkeley. The department furnishes readers and musicians for clubs, educational institutions and commercial organizations, drawing upon the rich field of the university faculty.

The Lecture Department is conducted as part of the plan of the University Extension to extend the campus influence and its advantages to as many people of California as possible. The speakers cover a range of subjects from business, economic and travel topics to literature, art and science.

The Dramatic readings are also given and this fee has also been reduced to $25.

To Attend Conference at Hague
J. R. Beach, Assistant Professor of Veterinary Science at the University is to attend the World's Poultry Conference to be held at the Hague, Holland, September 9-11. The conference is to be attended by delegates from leading institutions of all countries. While in Europe, Professor Beach will investigate the conditions of poultry raising in Germany, France, Spain and England.
Rural Credit System Explained

WHITE HOUSE HAS RARE WORK OF ART
(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Harding, as White House chate-laine, inherits a collection of pictures and paintings of vast historical interest, but one in particular is without equal anywhere in the world.
Many who have seen it agree, that it is without its equal.
It hangs on the wall of Mrs. Harding's parlor, and its unique quality is not apparent to any except the profound historian and student. It is a portrait of Martha Washington, wife of the first President.
Under it is inscribed "Mrs. George Washington." Therein lies its distinction. It is the only known instance, to many students, of Martha Washington being referred to as "Mrs. George."

Letters of inquiry are now received by the Division of Rural Institutions of the College of Agriculture of the University, regarding article in a recent issue of The Country Gentleman which explained how the settler is helped by the long time payments of the State Settlement Board of California.

The low price of farm products, high price of what the farmer has to buy, and the restriction of farm credit by banks, is giving to the subject of farm credit an acute interest. California has great areas of fertile land that need to be subdivided and settled and as an aid to this the College of Agriculture of the University of California will give during September 5 to 8 and 12 to 15, two short courses on Land Colonization. One course will be for those who are interested in subdivisions and one on land settlement.

California Peach Crop

In 1920 California produced approximately 32.5 per cent of the peach crop of the United States, or enough to supply every person with 7½ pounds, according to the statement of H. M. Butterfield, Supervisor of Agricultural Correspondence Courses at the University. Fresno County produced about one-third of the State's crop or nearly as much as the State's nearest competitor.

Information regarding a new correspondence course on "Peach Culture," may be obtained from the Division of Agricultural Education, University of California, Berkeley, California.

Circular on Potatoes

"Potatoes in California," issued as circular number 161 by the College of Agriculture of the University, has been reprinted and is again available for distribution. The bulletin deals with all phases of potato raising, including planting, cutting, sprouting, irrigation, and culture. It will be sent free upon application to the Dean of the College of Agriculture.

Graduate Heads Department

W. J. Duddleson, graduate of the University in 1916, has just been appointed to take charge of the Animal Husbandry work at the California Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo.

After graduating from the University Duddleson enlisted in the United States Army, and upon his return after the war was in charge of the agricultural work of the East Ely High school, Ely, Nevada.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poisons, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

W. C. T. U. PLANS Y. P. B. INSTITUTE FOR AUGUST 28

The chief matters of business discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the City W. C. T. U. which was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Johnston, 111 North Everett street, were the coming Y. P. B. Institute to take place August 28 at the Baptist Church, and the reception to be given the same evening for the Institute and for Mrs. Maude Perkins, national director, at the home of Mrs. Samuel Dick.

Resolutions of sympathy for Mrs. J. P. Fansett in the loss of her husband were adopted and the secretary was instructed to forward a copy.

Appeal for Prohibition

The Superintendent of Legislation made a strong plea for the enforcement of prohibition and read an extract from an address by Roy A. Hayes, federal prohibition commissioner, as follows:

"I wish that we might have in America a revival of regard for the sanctity and majesty of the law. I wish that it might be preached by the parents in the home as well as by the teacher in the school, the preacher in the pulpit, the writer and cartoonist in the press, the actor on the stage, by every good citizen and agency. I want the help of every good, loyal citizen."

Mrs. Logie Speaks

Mrs. S. E. Logie, county superintendent of evangelism, made a fine address on social welfare. She gave a very interesting, instructive and comprehensive view of the field that may be covered by the department as well as an account of the soldier and sailor home center at San Diego, where she was house mother to the boys from camp and ship for about two years. Mrs. Logie's talk increased the interest in her department and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered her.

A letter from State officers was read inviting all members and friends to attend a grand picnic reception to be tendered the national officers and leaders when they pass through Los Angeles enroute for home.

The national convention is now in session but the date at which the officers will pass through Los Angeles is not yet known, so the time and place of the picnic and reception could not be announced.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Luster at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

GOING FRANKLIN ONE BETTER

Benjamin Franklin made his name secure among the scientists when he brought electricity down from the clouds. Now comes a modern invention which, figuratively speaking, extracts electricity from the wind. After two years of experimentation engineers of the Perkins Corporation, in conjunction with the Westinghouse Electric Company, have succeeded in generating electricity from the air in violent motion. They have produced an outfit that generates electricity from wind blowing from seven to thirty miles an hour, stores it up for use when needed, and works day and night without attention. It is hardly anything more than a huge windmill equipped with a generator, a switch-board and battery.

The outfit is discussed in a recent issue of Current Opinion, which says in part:

The first perfected outfit has been erected in Indiana, where careful records have been kept from the day of its installation. Every known instrument for recording results in terms of wind velocity and amount of current generated have been in constant use. An anemometer placed on top of the big wind wheel has automatically recorded the velocity of the wind during every minute of the day. A registering ammeter on the switchboard inside has told just how much current was being generated in the same period of time. These records furnish data as to the amount of electric current generated under different wind conditions. Kept for a number of months and carefully checked with government wind data, they indicate that it is possible to produce and store enough current to cover average farm needs."

This new method of generating electricity fires the imagination. It will no doubt bring a new era in farming, providing it proves practical. Every farm home may have its own electric lights and electric current to run not only modern household conveniences, but different machinery about the farm, and all served at a minimum cost. Though modern electric generating plants are common on many farms, the cost is prohibitive to some. But the "electric windmill" will cost practically nothing after it is once installed. If the invention is a success the immortal Franklin will have to share honors with modern scientists.

SECTIONAL JEALOUSIES

Urging a closer co-operation between cities and communities and condemning rivalry that he declared leads to "bad blood" and "knocking," Rollin C. Ayres, president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association, speaking before the Oakland Advertising Club recently at the Hotel Oakland, advocated a spirit which would end rivalry of a dangerous nature which he said was threatening the welfare of coast cities.

To illustrate rivalry which he declared was doing harm, Ayres referred briefly to the recent earthquake in Los Angeles. He said:

"We are all neighbors on the Pacific Coast and we should try to have each city boost for the entire coast, and not for herself. Recently a small earthquake took place in Los Angeles.

"The Seattle newspapers carried big headlines telling of this terrible shake. A few days later one of the papers carried an editorial saying, 'Los Angeles has always considered herself, because of her boasting, a municipality by herself.'

"The editorial concluded: 'Los Angeles got just what was coming to her. We hope that she got a good shaking and that some of her conceit was shaken out of her.'

"This is unfair to any city. We must unite and boost for the Pacific Coast if we want the West to grow as big as the East.

"We are now formulating a plan whereby we will be able to eliminate inter-city knocking. There is altogether too much bickering going on between the various coast cities, and we feel that it is the task of the ad clubs to help stop it. San Francisco should not criticize Los Angeles because of the latter's harbor, nor should Los Angeles advertise San Francisco as a hotbed of industrial disturbance. Tacoma should not be jealous of Seattle, nor should Seattle try to tell the world that she owns the Puget Sound."

And I will do my best to make
A prophecy quite nifty.

A man will lift the phone one day
And ask for old Saint Peter;
Whil'st central will be sure to say

"A quarter in the meter."
A minutes pause and then they'll say
"To heaven you're connected."

So kneel you down, (you need not pray)

And have your soul inspected.
Then as he kneels, a voice quite weak
Will murmur soft and sweetly:

Saint Peter, yes, what do you seek,
You need not speak discreetly.
Oh! Please; Oh! please! the man will sigh,

Saint Peter, will you tell me;

Where I will go to when I die

And leave all things so earthly.
Your name is Clay, yes Henry Clay,
I have your balance handy;

So listen. Will Saint Peter say,
I have no time to bandy.
Upon your page I see Oh! Woe

A column full of Debit;
And much as I regret, 'tis so
No item yet of Credit.

The man will then turn pale and cold,
His soul will crave repentance;
The more, indeed, that he is told,

The more he'll dread the sentence.
Saint Peter now will say, Behold
"If you would enter Heaven;

You'll have to change your ways, I'm told

Your lease is up at seven.
You need not ask about your fate,
Below go all the Debits;

We only let within our gates
Those whom have mostly Credits.

MUSIC NOTES

Teresa Brambilla Ponchielli, widow of Amicare Ponchielli, the composer of "La Gioconda," died in Italy recently at the home of her daughter, Giuseppina Michelini. Mme. Ponchielli, whose family was identified with music and with opera especially, was born seventy-six years ago at Cassano Val d'Adda, and made the acquaintance of the composer when she was singing in the revised version of his opera, "I Promessi Sposi," at the Teatro Dal Verme in Milan in 1872. They were married soon after and had three sons besides the daughter at whose home Mme. Ponchielli died. None of their children followed music professionally. After the death of her husband in 1886, Mme. Ponchielli retired from the stage and devoted her life to teaching. She was for a number of years a member of the faculty of the conservatory at Geneva, Switzerland. Interment was in Milan.

Devoted to the interest of the American Negro in music, the American Musician, a monthly publication, with editorial rooms in Philadelphia, contains much to indicate growing activity among the Negroes in art. A broad and sound outlook is evidenced in its editorials and in the selection of material. Its editors, and many of its contributors are American Negroes, and there is a unique folk-element in much of its content.

Among articles of interest are those briefly descriptive of the successes attending the appearances of Roland Hayes, the negro tenor, at Wigmore hall, London. The incorporation of a negro grand opera company in New York is noted, of which H. Lawrence Freeman, negro composer, is founder and director. Rudolph Grant, a vocal teacher in Pittsburgh, writes that, for singers, "to be coaches is necessary, but to be taught first is essential." A discussion of the program possibilities of music is contained in an article by William H. Briggs, and a discussion of the origin of Afro-American folk-song by Louis Stanley Hooper are interesting. Among composers of modern negro music commended are Harry T. Burleigh, Clarence Cameron White, R. Nathaniel Dett, Will Marion Cook and J. Rosamund Johnson.

Myrna Sharlow, soprano, one of the two star singers, the other being Kreidler, who appeared at the Epworth assembly a year ago, was married July 9 in Italy to Edward Boring Hitchcock says Musical America: "Miss Sharlow, whose European successes, and those achieved with the Chicago opera association, will be remembered, will continue her professional career."

The engagement of Italo Montemezzi, the distinguished Italian opera composer of "L'Amore dei Tre Re" and "Le Nave," to Katharine Leith of New York city, has been announced. Miss Leith made the acquaintance of Mr. Montemezzi during his visit season before last to America. She is said to be of a wealthy American family and is an amateur pianist. Miss Leith is now in Italy, where she has been visiting the Montemezzi family.

The coming tour of Edmond Clement, the noted French tenor, is to be made under the distinguished patronage of the minister of fine arts of the French republic. This is considered a great honor both for the artist and his manager. Mr. Bourdon announced last week that the Clement tour, which is to be a limited one this coming season, is already practically booked.

The government of the American republic has practically decided, despite its great and overwhelming financial difficulties, to grant a subsidy of 1,000,000 crowns for musical and dramatic performances available for Viennese brain-workers and middle class intellectuals. For this section of the public low-priced tickets for concerts, operas and plays by the best artists will be guaranteed. Present prices make attendance prohibitive.

South Africa

Some Facts About an Unknown Country

By LORIMER-JOHNSTON

I have just returned to the United States after a sojourn of over four years in Africa. During that time I have covered pretty well all of the territory south of the Equator to the Cape and from the Atlantic to the Indian Oceans. This has embraced, Cape Colony, Transvaal, Orange Free State, Natal, Rhodesia, Swazi-Land, Zulu-Land, Portuguese, East Africa, or Mozambique, up to what was German East, but is now a part of the British possessions, to Zanzibar and back to the Belgian Congo—some trip. I have seen the country from all angles. I went there to take moving pictures for a newly established company, financed by South African money, and have taken twelve pictures aggregating some 42,000 feet—these will all be here soon. They were not 'scenic' as it is called, but pictorializations of novels and stories of South Africa, some already written and some I wrote—but that's not what I wanted to say. It is appalling the lack of knowledge in America of a country so vast, so wonderful, so productive and so worthy of exploitation. Before I went to Africa in 1915, I went to the Public Library here in Los Angeles, to read up on the country. What did I get? One old railway guide of the vintage of 1907, and an inquiry today I find the list has been added to by some references in the World Almanac for 1916-19. Of course, there are stories of the Zulu War, and articles in various encyclopedias, but I can find nothing that tells of the country or its resources. That's why I am writing this to present a few facts—The principal city of South Africa is Johannesburg, in the Transvaal, a modern up-to-date city in every way, it has a population of 275,000. The shops are fine, Anateys Cuthberts and Chudleighs occupy entire six story buildings, especially constructed for them, and taking up a square block, they are fully stocked with merchandise, such as we find in our large department stores. The streets are all paved with Asphaltum, and Tarvo, and all the roads for many miles around are as smooth as our best, in fact the road from Johannesburg to Pretoria, 38 miles is a speedway and is perfect. I have covered these 38 miles in 42 minutes, and we were not seemingly going very fast then. The Rand Reefs, which encircle this city produce one third of all the gold which is mined in the world. Did you know that? And there is not one mine that is not productive, and a vast district called the East Rand, which has been surveyed has not as yet been touched, as the present mines produce all the present capital can manage. Naturally, mining is the chief industry in Johannesburg.

Living is Cheaper

Once upon a time it cost money to live in this city. In fact it was called the most expensive city in the world, it's not so now—having been in New York all of the present winter, I have learned something of our living expenses. In Johannesburg, and this applies to all of the larger cities, I found it much cheaper than at home, the finest mutton chops I ever saw, cut three inches thick, cost nine pence, or 18 cents for two, and there's plenty for four hungry people, eggs went to a top price when scarce, at three shillings a dozen, (I paid one dollar and ninety-five cents for the same amount in New York, this winter) and when plentiful they went for eight pence or sixteen cents. and fruit, get all the various kinds you want, and for twenty-five cents you have enough to last a week for two—I wish I could get the same materials here for clothing I had there, made in the best style and for five to six pounds, and silk lined if you want it. Women's clothes are rather higher than men's, but there is no great difference in the cost. Shoes are expensive, at least we thought so until we returned to America, then we found out they were much higher here—We get in South Africa, all classes of tinned foods and in glasses that are made in the United States, all of the various firms send their products there, and, isn't this funny? We found in New York that a well known bacon in glass, cost us ten cents more per jar than it was sold for in Africa—one can get a first-class apartment of three rooms, elevator service, automatic, or otherwise, fully furnished for ten to twelve pounds a month. The Carlton hotel is as good as any one can ask for, and one can live there for seven pounds a week, inclusive, and that inclusive means four meals a day, if you want them. Cigars and liquors also beers are expensive, but then the water is good, very good, and we found there was no need to drink bottled water but used the taps. Sugar of which there has been supposedly a famine in the East of our country is cheap, four pence a pound. Natal alone is pretty well supplying the country—with her vast fields of sugar cane, and the Natal Tea, is becoming famous. As for tobacco, Rhodesia is exporting tobacco to Europe, pipe smokers say "it's the best ever." Now what I have said of living expenses will apply to Cape Town, Durban, Maritzburg, Bloemfontein, East London, Port, Elizabeth and other cities. I have lived in all of them. The hotels in all of the smaller towns and most of the cities are run on "the American Plan"—room and board included, and a good hotel averages 12 shillings a day.

On the trains of the South African railways, which are owned by the government, dining cars are attached to all through trains, there is always a fixed charge for meals (a la carte, is not known). Breakfast is 2/6, or sixty cents. Luncheon the same and dinner, three shillings, this last includes about five courses. On a rack at each table is found some five kinds of wines, all native, and very cheap and good averaging about twenty cents a bottle, these are mostly made in the Cape provinces. All through trains are either Coupe of two berths, or compartment of four. These give exclusiveness in all ways, are arranged with wash bowls, and many have lavatory conveniences, some cars have a shower bath room. At night the porter brings in a roll of bedding which is sealed, berths are made by lowering the seats and beds are made—the charge for this is two shillings and six pence, sixty cents, and this is always the charge no matter how long the distance. If you are on the train two nights or more, you get the same bedding, as it is again sealed when removed, and the first charge is all you pay. The proper use of a few coins of the realm we found were all that was necessary to have the exclusive use of a compartment even when the trains were crowded, especially as we could always lock the door, which opens on a corridor.

Africa Has Fine Harbor

Johannesburg is 36 hours by train from Cape Town, 30 hours from Durban on the east coast, 18 hours from Loureque Marques, also on the Indian ocean. The latter place has a wonderful harbor on the Delagoa Bay, concreted docks of vast extent, and on each of them a system of travelling cranes to load and unload vessels. These greatly expediate the work and we of America can learn from them, and needless to say we have nothing like them here at home. This is Portuguese territory, and could have been acquired by England for a song twenty years ago. It is the natural port of entry for Johannesburg, has splendid railway communications, and were it owned by England, would be in a few years a great place, as it is Portugal has realized its possibilities and is spending large sums for its development, the harbor could take all the navies of the world, it is the finest in Africa. As for the national products of South Africa—it needs factories, to manufacture steel, building materials, shoes, glass and many of the necessities of life. Coal is everywhere, in the interior and at many points of the railways, and cheap, never more than about four dollars a ton, delivered, and at the place of production less than half of that. Oil has not yet been found in paying quantities, but the field has hardly been scratched yet. There are strong indications in Mozambique, so it may be found. Prior to the war, all gasoline or petrol as it is called there came from Russia or the United States, now the Russian supply has stopped, so we send it all. It is shipped in tins holding a fraction less than five gallons, and costs for this amount about 35 shillings—9 dollars. There are more motor cars than one would expect from this.

Cars Are American Made

As they are principally American made cars, although there are many English cars. Our cheaper cars are not much in evidence, but the higher priced cars are plentiful, a taxi is cheaper than in New York—Rickshaws' whose motor power is Zulu,

Diamonds

There are many wonderful things to be found in South Africa besides gold and diamonds, although these are the things one thinks of in connection with Africa. I know of a range of hills in Griqua-Land, 50 miles west of Kimberley, that are called the Asbestos Mountains—there is enough of that product to supply the world forever. Iron is everywhere—vast fields called the Veldt, provide grazing for many more cattle than now use them, and every class of farming can be done. The warm weather is from November to March, Christmas is about the hot time. It is during these periods that it rains, and when it rains it rains good and plenty. New diamond fields are being constantly discovered—Just recently I went to a new field called Cameelfontein, only 18 miles from the Premier mine, near Pretoria, in a locality where the experts said diamonds were impossible, owing to the formation of the ground, yet one day a farmer picked up a stone on top of the ground, that started a rush and now many stones, some of good size are being found daily. Of course when the field is found productive, the De Beere people step in and then—"But that's another story."

SAND MAN STORIES

"BUNNY RABBIT GOES HIKING"
When Bunny Rabbit was born he had two brothers and a sister. They all slept in a soft downy nest of white fur which his pretty mother had provided for them from her own coat.
When he was a week old his brothers and sister fell out of their nest and died from cold, this left poor Bunny all alone. He ate and slept most of the time and grew very fast into a roly-poly bunny. When he was old enough and his eyes were open he noticed the other rabbits near looked at him curiously.

One day he heard them say, look at that rabbit, he has a brown coat and pink eyes, is that not queer! Bunny puzzled over this often, for when he would look at his mother he saw that she was all white and downy but had pink eyes like his own.

One day when he was about six weeks old, he stretched and yawned, showing his pink tongue, and said to himself: "Dear me, I am so tired of eating and sleeping and doing nothing else, I want to see the world; all I can see through the bars of my home is a garden. I wonder what is hiding in that garden and eating all those good things!"

Just then he spied a hole which his mother had gnawed that day, the hole was plenty large enough for him to squeeze through so he thought why not go for a hike?

When his mother was not looking, he wriggled through the hole and fell to the ground with a thump.

The fall dazed him for a moment, but he sat up and blinked at the bright sun-light which he was unaccustomed to, and then ran as fast as he could to the garden. He hid under a cabbage leaf until he had gained courage to explode a little further, just when he came across a creature with many legs and two horns. While Bunny was much larger than this funny looking thing, it scared him, and he wished that he had not run away from home.

He remembered his mother had warned him about spiders that hid in dark corners, but she had never told him of anything which looked like this.

VIEWING LIBERTY STATUE, IMMIGRANT ARTIST PRAYS

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—As the steamship Guglielmo Pierce passed the Statue of Liberty recently Adenaro Ratti, 17, an Italian student of sculpture, fell to his knees and prayed.
The burden of his prayer was that he might create a statue similar to the huge masterpiece of Bartholdi. Adenaro, who already has done several works of note in his native city, Carrara, Italy, yearns to produce "a grand monument of which the motif would be Liberty."

EASTBOUND RATES ON OIL REDUCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—G. W. Luce, Freight Traffic Manager for the Southern Pacific company announces reduction in eastbound rates on oil well supplies in carload lots from California points to points in Wyoming. The reduction is made to enable the California shippers to compete with eastern manufacturers. The present rates on oil well supplies to such representative points as Casper, Wyoming, is $2.66½ per 100 pounds, and $2.19 to Cheyenne. The new rate will be $1.75 per 100 pounds to these points.

Reduction is also made in the rate on carlot shipments of uncompressed cotton for export from Texas to California ports. The present rate is $5 while the new rate will be $2.06½. Rates are also reduced on a number of articles of hardware from the east, in less than carload lots. The rates will become effective as soon as the tariffs are printed.

CHICAGO BABY HAS 12 FINGERS, 12 TOES

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—The popular nursery rhyme about the five little pigs doesn't fit in the case of Baby Joseph Witowski, one of Chicago's most recent citizens. There are not enough pigs to go around. Because little "Joe" is equipped with twelve toes and Mamma Witowski needs six little pigs for each foot.
And that isn't all. Joseph has twelve fingers, too. And all those 24 toes and fingers are perfect, according to the doctor who brought Joseph into the world—not mere "stubs," as freak members usually are.
Neighbors and friends have been coming for blocks around to view them and Joe greets them with a superior grin.

Wireless Phone News Planned For Farmers

(By International News Service)
OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 24.—The wireless telephone newspaper is here. This project is backed by the United States government through the postoffice department and the "trial" station will soon be opened in Omaha. If the premier tryout proves a success similar stations will be established over the entire continent at a distance of 400 miles apart.

R. B. Howell, republican national committeeman from Nebraska, is the man in whose mind this novel idea "budded." He is an engineer, a graduate of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and was a lieutenant during the world war. Howell is the head of the Omaha municipal waterworks, gas works and ice plant. Recently Howell broached his plans to Postmaster-General Hays.

Hays was well pleased with the idea and asked Howell to establish an experimental wireless newspaper in Omaha. Also he appointed Howell to go to Europe and make investigations of certain phases of wireless reports which are being made over there. Howell will sail September 1.

Started at Once
The wireless newspaper will not wait for Howell's return, however, but will be started immediately.

If present plans are carried out the wireless newspaper will furnish all sorts of news to farmers, ranchmen, small towns, city business men and to homes. It will be run from early morning until late at night. Certain classes of news will be carried over the "wires" at stipulated hours.

"We may find it necessary to change our plans and undoubtedly will make many changes," said Howell.

GOT ALONG WITHOUT BOSSING

Joseph Pulitzer Selected His Right-Hand Men With Care, and Then Let Them Alone.

There is an old proverb to the effect that a good boss makes a good workman. There must be something in it. The most successful employers are those who have the most worthwhile employees. Part of the success, no doubt, is in picking the employee. Another part, perhaps, is in letting him alone. If he is worth keeping he is worth trusting.
"Joseph Pulitzer never dictated to me," said Samuel G. Blythe, according to an exchange. "He never told me what to write or what not to. Only once in my life did he even make a request of me."

Blythe was for years the star man in the great blind editor's Washington bureau. Now and then, as Blythe explained, Mr. Pulitzer went to some trouble to prove in the editorial column that Blythe was suffering from a prolapsus of the intellect. Sometimes he massed facts to show that his opinion differed monumentally from that of his Washington luminary. But he never dictated, said Blythe. Or almost never. But once he did ask a favor.

"I had been sharpshooting at the manner in which a great firm of architects was abusing the exterior of the White House," said Blythe, "when one day I got a wire from the old man. It ran something like this:
"Unless you have a deep personal feeling in the matter I wish you would cease further reference to the rebuilding of the White House. Please understand this is not a criticism of what you have written. But the same firm of architects is building a house for me, and if you don't lay off I'll not get into it for two years."

Blythe's conclusion was that an employer of that sort is fairly sure to have employees who will rob graves, sit up all night, or tear a thesaurus to tatters for him.

RULED LONG IN WILDERNESS

Colin Rankin, Recently Deceased, Was Fifty Years With the Hudson's Bay Company.

Colin Rankin, who died in Montreal recently at the age of ninety-four, was the first native Canadian to enter the service of the Hudson's Bay company. After a half-century in the company's employ, this patriarch of the fur trade retired as chief factor in 1898.

He was taken into the Hudson's Bay company's service in 1843 by Sir George Simpson, known as the "emperor governor." Sir George was one of the ablest of the long line of governors that began in 1670 with Prince Rupert, famous champion of the house of Stuart in Cromwellian wars. Under him, the company was merged with the North West company, which for years had been its deadly rival in the fur trade. Under him, too, the company reached its meridian of power and dominion and ruled three-fourths of the North American continent.

Mr. Rankin's service was almost exclusively in eastern Canada. He was in charge of posts at Mattawa, Lac-Beauport, St. Maurice, Kikendatch, Ber-simis, Saguenay, Simcoe and Temiskaming. He was chief factor over the Lake Superior district and the Ottawa river district. He was known for his vigor of mind and body, and his career, which missed but six years of rounding out a century, was an epic of the wilderness adventure.

Flour Maker's Proud Record.
Ranking as the champion flour maker of the world, John Kraft, who retired March 1, after continuous service for 46 years, holds the unique record.

"We will add some features and eliminate others as we progress." The cost, as outlined by Howell in his report to Postmaster-General Hays, is a minor item. The sending stations, equipped and ready for use, will cost approximately $25,000 each. The receiving stations, to be paid for by the persons receiving the service, will cost not to exceed $65. The news itself will be free.

"The objects of the service is to extend the government functions, to increase the joy of living and to put the day's news into the hands of all who wish it while it is still happening," said Howell. "It is not intended, however, to usurp the position of the newspapers."

Proposal is Feasible
Rear Admiral Bullard, chief of communications of the United States navy, together with the officials of the Radio Corporation of America and the chief engineer of the De Forrest Radio Telephone and Telegram Company of New York have declared that the proposal is wholly feasible from a technical point of view.

The wireless connection will be operated in conjunction with the Post Office Department. Howell does not intend to devote his time to the new service, but only is assisting Mr. Hays in getting the venture started.

The exact date of the wireless telephone newspaper opening has not been set yet and will depend largely upon the length of time required to get the instruments in place, line up the organization, etc. But before the snow flies it is hoped that the news of the world will be flashed by wireless direct into homes and offices within 200 miles of Omaha.

HUSKING PEG IS PRIZED

NEW WASHINGTON, O., Aug. 24.—A husking peg, which, probably, has been used for husking corn a century is a possession prized by Mrs. William J. Aschbacher here. The peg, first used by her grandfather, was used by her father for seventy-five years.

ord of making flour enough to feed the United States and its possessions for a period of one year.

Because of impaired vision, the Argonaut states, Mr. Kraft, who is sixty-nine years old, terminated his connection with a Minneapolis flour company after establishing a record which milling engineers believe will stand for many years. Engineers at the plant estimate that during his 46 years of active service Mr. Kraft made 138,000,000 barrels of flour. According to the veteran miller, an average normal person consumes about one barrel of flour a year, or its equivalent. Mr. Kraft's output, therefore, could feed the population of the entire United States and its possessions, which is approximately 115,000,000, and at the end of the year have a large surplus.

Jugoslavia Prosperous.
Jugoslavia is reported to be in better financial condition than most of its neighbors. Its national debt is about $600,000,000 gold and the budget approximately balances. Per capita taxes are considerably less than one-third what they are in Roumania, Czechoslovakia and France. The wealth of the country is at present mainly agricultural. Grazing is an important industry. Several new factories have recently been opened and it is interesting to note that some of these are financed, wholly or in part, with the capital of Russian refugees who managed to bring their wealth with them when they escaped from their own country.

No One to Talk To.

The supervisor of the Cascade national forest in Oregon has engaged a number of women for duty as fire lookouts this summer. The women will dwell in lonely cabins on the high mountain peaks until the fall rains set in or until there is no further danger of forest fires.—Brooklyn Eagle.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 24.—Somebody else has found the meanest man in the world. W. R. Brooks, agent of the Missouri Pacific Railroad at Neelyville, who formerly was opposed to capital punishment, has changed his mind.
This new meanest man in the world cut the screen out of the station window while Brooks was asleep and crept silently away with the station agent's trousers. The outlaw, of course, was welcome to the watch and the small change contained in the pockets thereof.

"OVER THE HILL" AT GLENDALE THEATRE

May Beth Carr, the seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Carr—famed as Ma Benton in the William Fox picture "Over the Hill," at the Glendale Theatre tonight, has three ideals, which she expresses as follows:

"I want to become as good a motion picture actress as my mamma. I want to have as many friends in the world as Ethel Barrymore, and I want to be as sweet and pretty as Pearl White."

Despite her tender years, May Beth has been appearing in motion pictures and in the spoken drama for five years. Her experiences include such attractions as "Polly of the Circus," "The Great Divide," "As You Like It," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "The Barrier," and "Over the Hill."

I really believe my mamma is the best motion picture actress in the world," May Beth insists. "I have seen 'Over the Hill' several times, and mamma's acting makes me cry every time I see it. How fine it would be if I could grow up to do such things as mamma has done in motion pictures. Then, too, I want to be as sweet and pretty as Pearl White. I know that is asking a great deal, and maybe I won't be able to accomplish it all, but I am going to try. You see, mamma gives all of us (meaning five other young Carrs) daily lessons in acting, so by the time I get to be a young lady, I will have lots of experience."

QUALITY DOUGHNUT SHOP IN NEW STORE

Frank H. Wyman, the original "Doughnut King," has moved to his elegant new quarters at 104 West California street. In connection with his doughnuts he is handling an excellent line of home-baked goods, candies, ice cream, etc. Also he is maintaining his satisfactory plan of delivery and reports that business is on the "grow."

BURIAL SERVICE IS SENT BY WIRELESS

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Can "you oblige me with a copy of the burial service?"

This remarkable message was received by the wireless operator on the Cunard liner Carmania from a freight steamer 200 miles away, while the liner was about 300 miles west of Ffest-net, bound for Liverpool.

The message was dispatched from the Canadian Trapper, in which a fireman had died on the voyage from Montreal to London.

The wireless operator on the Carmania, which proceeded on her way at full speed, tapped out the service, word by word, in group messages of 150 words.

Passengers on the liner, unaware of the incident, were engaged in all manner of ways while the crew on the freight steamer stood bareheaded on deck, mourning the loss of a comrade.

The dictation lasted an hour, and when the last tape had been read out by the captain of the Canadian steamer, the body of the dead fireman was lowered into the sea.

ADVENTISTS MOVE SPANISH WORK HERE

The general conference of the Seventh-Day Adventist church is locating the headquarters of the Spanish department of its operations in the United States in Glendale. The headquarters of this work will be in the office of the Pacific Union conference, corner of Isabel and Broadway. Homer D. Casebeer, who is superintendent of the Spanish work in America, will be stationed in Glendale permanently. Mr. Casebeer was formerly with the missionary work in the West Indies.

The work of the Seventh-Day Adventist church on the Pacific coast is divided into five conferences, and in four of these Spanish work is being conducted. These four include Arizona, Southern California, Central California and Southeastern California.

Following are some members of the general conference committee of the Seventh-Day Adventist church who are now attending the meeting of the committee in Glendale:

E. W. Farnsworth, St. Helena, California; G. W. Wills, Oakland; Clarence Santee, Lodi; Jay J. Nethery, Riverside; C. M. Jones, Mountain View, California; W. E. Nelson, Ogden, and M. L. Rice of Reno.

It is all very well to talk about honoring the maimed doughboys, but honor won't pay board and doctor bills.

One sign of returning normalcy is that the hotel clerks no longer seem offended when you ask for a room.

PRINCE'S MARRIAGE AND PRAYER BOOK PROFITS STIR ENGLISH CLERGY

(By International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 24.—The nod of a prince may cost the State much gold, and it would appear that the future nuptials of the Prince of Wales may involve the Church of England in quite a lot of expense.

At a time when Bishops with $50,000 a year and a palace are feeling the pinch, and Archdeacons are pro-cessioning among the "new poor," this burden may become embarrassing.

Question of Profits

The worst of it is that it is so uncertain. The finances of the Church of England will have to stand the strain without warning.

The matter arose in a quaint way at the National Assembly of the Church of England when Lord Selborne moved that the government should be asked to hand over to the assembly the income derived from the copyright of the revised prayer book, on the ground that it has been compiled by the labors and at the expense of churchmen.

The prayer book has hitherto been printed by the King's printers and the Universities Press, but no profits come to the church.

Looking Ahead

So far all was plain sailing, for no doubt the newly-revised prayer book will have a large sale, and—National Assembly—like all newly-created bodies—would like to get hold of some revenue.

But up rose the Bishop of Ripon and disclosed a most delicate consideration on the other side. It was "quite conceivable," he said, that before long the Prince of Wales would be married, and this would entail alterations in the prayer book, the introduction of the name of the Prince of Wales, etc.

When even slight alterations were made the cost ran into thousands of pounds, and the cost of printing a revised prayer book would be very great.

Possible Losses

He pointed out that meanwhile the sale of the revised edition would be stopped by royal order until the Prince of Wales' name was added, and he hinted very plainly that if he asked for the profits they might also be called upon to share the possible losses.

The Bishop's idea was that before the resolution was accepted the finance committee should make inquiries, to which Canon Partridge made the reassuring reply that the Central Board's information went to show that the profits would certainly be considerable.

Taking the Risk

There can be little doubt that this is accurate in regard to the revised prayer book, because church people will want to follow alterations in the

MISS MOTTERN GOES EAST TO STUDY

Miss Elizabeth Mottern, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Mottern of this city, accompanied by Mrs. Annie Sipple, left for the east Monday morning.

Mrs. Sipple goes to visit a daughter in New York and to welcome a daughter who is a missionary in Korea and who will soon be returning to this country on a furlough. They may return to California together.

Elizabeth Mottern goes to Harrisburg, Gettysburg and other points in Pennsylvania to visit relatives, her last stop being in Philadelphia before getting to New York about September 16. There she will join Miss Backstrand of Riverside, one of the voice teachers in U. S. C., and Miss Luna Wellman, a fellow student. The three young women will lease an apartment and live together while studying the coming three months and taking in all the musical events of the city, returning to this coast in time for the mid-year semester in the University.

services, but it is evidently and obviously quite impossible to estimate beforehand how large a proportion of these will be willing subsequently to buy another revised version in order to secure the wording of the prayer for the Princess of Wales when she arrives on the scene.

If this number should prove small there might be, as the Bishop of Ripon suggested, a heavy loss on the transaction, but the National Assembly decided to risk it, and the resolution requesting the government to hand over the profits was carried.

The Prince, we hope, will now realize that the Church of England looks to him with admiration—but with anxiety.

Work on the Suez Canal began April 25, 1859, and it was opened to traffic November 21, 1869.

NEW GARAGE UNDER CONSTRUCTION IN SO. GLENDALE

A valuable addition to the business section of Tropicco will be the garage and oil station that is being erected by B. G. Jackson at the corner of San Fernando boulevard and Eulalia street. This building will be 50x60 feet in size and will be constructed entirely of brick. The exterior of the building will be finished in white plaster.

Building Will Cost $6000

The garage portion of the establishment will occupy the main brick building, while the service station part will be directly in front, at the intersection of the two streets. This building, which will cost $6000, will be ready for occupancy in about two months. Two large pepper trees, which stood on San Fernando boulevard, directly in front of the point where this building is being erected, are being removed in order that the autos may have free access to the garage and oil station.

Confidence in Future

"I have a great deal of confidence in the future of the southern part of Glendale, which is generally known as Tropicco," said Mr. Jackson when interviewed today. "The upper portion of the city has, of course, been making a wonderful growth during the past year or so, but I believe it is the lower end of the city's turn to do a little in the way of advancement. Nothing seems more logical to me than that this end of the city should brace up and do things. From now on our object down here is to 'go ahead.' Just watch us grow!"

MILLINER OPENS NEW STORE AT TROPICO

A new, up-to-the-minute millinery and notion store is opening its doors at 1517 South San Fernando road. It will be conducted by Mrs. C. A. Richardson, of Iowa, and Mrs. Ella Baldwin, of San Diego. Both of these ladies are experienced in the lines they will carry and they promise the very best of service and merchandise to the people of Glendale.

They intend to carry millinery, notions, stockings, children's play clothes, etc. At the present time they are living at 415 West Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burrows of Alhambra are passing some time with G. H. McLean, of 1531 South Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo D. Hyer and daughter, of 1915 Gardena avenue, left today for Susanville, Lassen county, where they will enjoy a visit of about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Baker of Brand boulevard returned Sunday from a tour of the beaches which lasted two weeks, including Venice, Santa Monica and Ocean Park.

Miss Helen McLean, who has been visiting with her brother, G. H. McLean, 1531 North Central avenue, for the past two months, left today for her home in New York.

G. H. McLean and sister, Miss Helen McLean, returned Monday evening from San Francisco, where they enjoyed a week's visit. Mr. McLean will leave in a few days for Lake Tahoe, where he expects to remain for several weeks.

Miss Blanche Danner of Buffalo, Kan., who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Danner, 1631 Gardena avenue, for about two months, will leave for her home tomorrow afternoon. While here she saw the majority of the sights around Los Angeles, and is more than pleased with Southern California, especially Glendale.

F. W. Miller of St. Louis, son of J. W. Miller, who has just opened a grocery store at 1414 South San Fernando road, has just purchased a residence at 601 Vine street, which he will rent. F. W. Miller will leave in a few days for his home in St. Louis. However, it is his intention to settle things up back there as rapidly as possible and return to Glendale to live permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Satow, 1513 1/2 South San Fernando road, motored to Bakersfield and back last Saturday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Huerman and son, of Los Angeles. On the return trip, about 2 o'clock in the morning, the party nearly was held up. The highwayman who tried to turn the trick jumped out in the road, handkerchief across his face, and demanded that Mr. Satow stop his machine. Instead of stopping, he merely "stepped on 'er." The highwayman jumped to one side and disappeared in the brush at the side of the road.

Social Meetings of

Grand View Residents

"Every new occasion teaches new duties. The very fact that the city is leaping ahead with leaps and bounds brings to us, new occasions, new duties, new problems. Some of these may be stated briefly. They are new transportation problems, new hotels, extension and improvements of the streets of the city, sanitary conditions including the sewerage problem, better educational facilities, transportation of the children to and from the school, an independent post-office--all of these and many more come before the Chamber of Commerce, and through the chamber to the people of the city."

Problems of Sacrifice
"With each new problem new duties arise, and each problem demands sacrifice--sometimes in money, sometimes in time, sometimes in service. Some one man or an organization of men and women must sacrifice. If we do not meet these new duties as they come up, the different improvements which might be made for the good of Glendale, are left undone and we are the losers."

Entertainment Program
The balance of the program was musical, and included the following numbers:

Vocal duet, Mrs. O. L. Cowen of Sacramento and T. J. Wheldon; "Battle Eve" (Bonheur).
Vocal solo, by Mr. Wheldon; "Bardolier" (Stewart).

Vocal solo, by Mrs. Cowen; "Magnetic Waltz" (Arditi).
T. J. Wheldon supplied the piano accompaniment for the above three numbers.

Violin duet, by Genevieve Mulligan and Julia Robinson, "Salut d'Amour" (Elgar).
Vocal solos, by Mayor Spencer Robinson; "Mavourneen" and "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms."

Violin solo, by Glenn Hurd, recently returned from Russia.

Discuss Bond Issue
There was some discussion of the school situation and of the expectation that the proposed school bond issue will include $25,000 for a Grand View School.

Following the program the floor was cleared for dancing and ice cream and cake were served.

Among Those Present
Among the distinguished guests were the great pianist, Brahms van den Berg, his wife and son. Quite a large delegation from the Pacific Avenue and Kenneth Road districts enrolled as members of the Association.

The next meeting of the Association will be held one month hence at the Bottsford Warehouse, when a vote will be taken on a permanent meeting place.

Mrs. Edwin Henry Bottsford headed the committee of entertainment and proved a delightful and efficient hostess.

Thief Steals Lantern
While the new citizens of Glendale were enjoying the evening, some one stole the lantern placed at the entrance to the warehouse to guide the guests. The lantern thief was traced and efforts will be made today to secure it without publicity.

Fruit Raising District
The Grand View district of the city is now largely devoted to fruit raising, it melons may be considered fruit. C. S. Ellsperman's six acres which will within two years, be cut up into lots, is now mostly peach orchard and melon patch. About four

Willie B. Glass, garage, 601 Howard street	209
Clarence G. Wilson, additional permit for new residence at 340 West Acacia avenue

LARGE BUILDING IS ERECTED WITHOUT LEGAL PERMIT

It seems impossible that a building 700 feet long by 72 feet wide and costing thousands of dollars, could be built without a permit being first secured, with everybody at the city hall in total ignorance that such a project had been even commenced, let alone carried on for several weeks, yet this was so, and no one was to blame. It happened this way:

W. B. Davis, proprietor of the Davis-Glendale Co., who about two years ago purchased 20 acres of ground in the Grand View section, south of the Pacific Electric Burbank line and between Sonora and Ruberta avenues, on which he proposed to erect large greenhouses of steel and glass in which to raise fruits and vegetables for all the year. The first unit, 72 by 350 feet, the power-house and manager's residence, were erected last year and some mammoth cucumbers were grown and marketed. A few weeks ago, Mr. Davis had to go back to his home in Aurora, Ill., where he has a $250,000 similar plant, to look after that and other plants in Illinois cities. Before he left, he made all the necessary plans for a new unit, 72 by 700 feet, to be erected at once, and set his manager to work on it. The manager supposed Mr. Davis had secured a permit before he went away, so proceeded with the work.

A few days ago, a representative of the Daily Press noted the near completion of the mammoth new unit and made some inquiries at the public works department as to the size of the permit, as he had no recollection of any such having been issued. This brought out the fact that no permit had been issued, so a building inspector was sent out to make inquiries. He found, as stated, that no permit had been secured. Arrangements were made to have one taken out in a few days with no penalties attached, as it was simply a misapprehension and everyone had acted in good faith. This will swell the city's permit totals quite appreciably.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the missionary society of the Central Avenue Presbyterian church will be held at Griffith Park, Thursday. At noon, a picnic dinner will be served on the tables beneath the trees, and this will be followed by a program and the usual business session.

CHEVROLET HEADQUARTERS

Things are humming these days at the Chevrolet headquarters on East Broadway. The new 1922 Baby Grand roadster has arrived. The first model has been purchased by Henry A. Michel, contractor and builder.

WHAT YOUR NEIGHBORS ARE DOING

Pierson Hanning, proprietor of the barber shop at 112 North Brand, who has been quite ill at his home, 235 North Orange street, is reported as somewhat improved today.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Eckles and Mrs. Eckles' sister, Miss Mayer, of St. Louis, have returned to their home on Winchester avenue from a few days' vacation at Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Fred A. Browne and son, Chas. H. Deaves, of the Hampden Arms Hotel, Los Angeles, were guests last night of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff E. Thompson, 313 West Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McPherson and son, Allen, 607 North Central avenue, have returned from a week's vacation at Big Bear. Miss Vera and Miss Dorothy McPherson, who have been at the same resort for two weeks, accompanied their parents home.

Miss Ruth Dryden, of Windom, Minn., who has been the house guest of Mrs. H. D. Goss, California apartments, has returned to her home, and en route will visit San Francisco, Seattle and Portland.

Miss Margaret McPherson and brother, Alexander, who have been vacationing at Catalina for the past two weeks, have returned to their home, 607 North Central avenue.

Miss Clyde Brook of Los Angeles, who has been spending the past ten days at Pinecrest, and Helen Wallace, 141 South Cedar, who has been at the same resort for the past three weeks, returned last night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon and son, Charles, 203 North Maryland, will leave the latter part of the week for Santa Barbara and other nearby points. They expect to be gone for two weeks.

Miss Maxie Clayborne of Nashville, Tenn., who has been spending the past few weeks with Mrs. C. E. Norton, 324 North Maryland, will leave Saturday night for San Francisco on her way home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Learned of 1643 Sixth street will drive down to Ocean-side Saturday, to hear their son, Willard Learned, deliver his farewell sermon to the Christian church congregation there. Willard has been preaching there this summer, and he and his bride have made their home in the town since their recent marriage. They will accompany his parents home on Monday and remain as their guests until September 12, when they will leave for Indianapolis, Ind., to enter the College of Missions.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Warren, 640 North Maryland, are leaving today for Oak Glen and Forest Home, where they anticipate spending a delightful vacation. They will be gone for a week.

Samuel Brown, 1243 Mariposa, who has been making an extended tour of the coast, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and North Dakota, has returned home after an absence of more than three months. He reports having a most delightful trip.

Miss Nancy St. Clair, who attended the Christian Endeavor convention in New York city, will give a report of some of the most interesting features of the convention, tonight at the prayer meeting at the Tropic Presbyterian church.

C. R. Lagourgue, of Lodi, Calif., has accepted a position as bookkeeper in the office of the Glendale Sanitarium. He began his new duties this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sharpe and family, who have been living at 1141 East Elk street, are moving in the near future to 705 South Glendale avenue, near the corner of Maple street. As it will bring them closer to the car line and their intimate friends, they are rejoicing in the change.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, who recently leased their beautiful home on Brand and Lexington to the newly established Academy of Music, are very busy getting ready to give possession on September 1. They are moving to 417 Myrtle street, and expect to enjoy getting acquainted in the new neighborhood.

Mrs. A. C. Andersen of Ocean Park came to Glendale yesterday to spend the day with her mother, Mrs. M. L. Tight, 612 East Broadway, and also to see her daughter, Mary, who has been visiting Mrs. Andersen's sister, Mrs. W. C. Fraley, of North Glendale avenue.

Miss Sibyl Houdyshell, 308 North Orange, has returned from a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Ramsey in San Diego.

Mrs. Eugenia Hanger, 337 West Ivy street, will speak on next Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Christian Alliance at Van Nuys, on the subject, "What is Christ?" The meeting will begin at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson and son, George, Jr., have returned to their home from a delightful trip, which covered a period of two months. They visited Niagara Falls and then spent some time in New York city, as guests of Mr. Peterson's relatives; then to Elizabeth, N. J., visiting relatives and friends of Mrs. Peterson. Other points of interest visited were Washington D. C.; Mt. Vernon, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Chicago and San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson say that while they enjoyed the trip immensely, California looked mighty good on their return and especially Glendale, which, they say, ranks above any place visited.

NOVEL EQUIPMENT PLAN FOR CHURCH

The meeting at the Glendale Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon was one of great interest to the 50 or more ladies assembled to discuss with Architect Robert Orr, the special features of the proposed new church building, in which they were most concerned. The only men present except the architect were H. L. Finlay and W. J. Clendenin.

Mr. Orr exhibited plans, elevations and finished drawings, and explained them. He asked for criticism and suggestions. In the main, they were approved without reservation, but a window here and there was recommended, also openings that would make it possible to throw two classrooms together. When they were separated by intervening dressing-rooms, the suggestion was made that these be moved to the end so they would not interfere. This the architect readily agreed to do.

The permanent fixtures for banquet hall and kitchen were not so easily visualized and to make it easy for the ladies to decide where they should be placed, Mr. Orr said he would install dummy fixtures which the ladies could move about and place to suit their fancy until they had decided what locations would be most convenient. He would do this, he said, as soon as partitions had been placed, and he suggested that the women's societies appoint committees to inspect the dummies and make the necessary placements.

The ladies were much interested in the provisions contained in the plans for two little kitchenettes in connection with classrooms for convenience when social gatherings were held.

As the buildings planned will entirely cover the site at the corner of Louise and Harvard streets, Mr. Orr delicately suggested that the ladies get busy and present the church with an additional lot to afford some margin for ground space.

BUILDINGS NOTES

On August 6 Clarence G. Wilson took out a permit for a 6-room house and garage at 340 West Acacia avenue, to cost $5,000. Yesterday he took out an additional permit for $1,000, having decided to make a 2-story house of it.

An 8-room one story residence costing $4,000, is to be built at 364 Oak street, corner of Columbus avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harrison, 211 East Cypress street, have gone to Balboa for a fortnight's outing.

Mrs. E. C. Adams, 1255 South Maryland, is expecting a brother to arrive next week from northern California to make her a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hopkins were guests for a couple of days this week of E. E. Harwood and family on Cypress avenue. Mrs. Harwood is making a satisfactory recovery from the operation she recently underwent, but is still confined to her bed and has not yet been brought home.

Mrs. P. H. Curtis, 1331 North Maryland avenue, has just returned from a two months' visit at Charlevoix, Mich., and Boston, Mass.

A number of Glendadians will leave here on Saturday morning for a two weeks' vacation at Mammoth Lake, in the Yosemite. The party will include Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Abbey and family, 1221 North Central; Mr. and Mrs. George Bentley and family, 409 South Adams, and Jacob L. Gray and family, 533 North Isabel.

VETERAN FOLKS MEET

Business was forgotten, except such as concerned plans for good times, last night at Odd Fellows' hall, where the members of Mary Jane Gillette Tent No. 18 and N. P. Banks Post No. 22 united to enjoy a variety entertainment.

The program included two vocal solos by Mrs. Almira Bullock, for whom Mrs. Winona Crawford furnished the accompaniment; readings and a vocal solo by Mrs. Pearl Moore, and readings by Arthur J. Van Wie.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Susie Peck and Mrs. Queen Danner, and while they were being enjoyed, plans were made for a joint picnic at Brookside Park, Tuesday, August 30, for the afternoon and evening. All members of the camp and tent and their families would be expected to attend, and any persons eligible to membership in either organization will be invited as guests.

INTRODUCING RAYMOND STREET

It is an old night in Glendale when somebody does not stub a toe over at least one new street somewhere in the city.

The latest addition to the highway system is Raymond street, extending from Fourth to Sixth street and the center of which is the western, or rather northwestern, boundary of Glendale. The east side of the street is in this city but the west side is in the county.

It is the first street to be laid out in a new subdivision just opened by Los Angeles parties, and the first permit for a building was issued yesterday to Arthur Crowell for a garage to be used as a temporary residence.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET AT INTERMEDIATE

At the session of Troop No. 1, Girl Scouts, which took place at Intermediate School, Tuesday afternoon, eight girls successfully passed the tenderfoot tests which are a preliminary to initiation in the troop. These girls were: Alice Carpenter, Beryl Goodale, Bertha Brown, Carolyn Ayars, Lucile Beach, Fredericka Brown, Frances Betz, Katherine Beidel, and Tamson Johnson. Four others will take the tests next Tuesday and if these pass, and it is certain they will, the troop will then be full.

A business meeting followed the tests at which the girls voted to undertake a camping trip to the hills, September 6. It was a big meeting for a midsummer one, every member but one being present.

The regular assembly of the troop will take place next Tuesday afternoon and the Friday following a special meeting will be held, at which thirteen girls who have passed the tenderfoot test will be initiated and subscribe to the scout oath.

Miss Nell Leggett was present as a guest and was greatly interested in the proceedings because she is about to organize another troop. At the outset it will be made up of members of a Sunday School class of which she is the teacher.

Miss Gladys Sharpe, leader of Troop No. 1, is very proud of the good work done by members of her organization some of whom are now working for the first class test. She welcomes the organization of another troop, believing it will increase interest and ambition to have competition.

Several members of Troop No. 1 have passed the test for merit badges but have not received them because they have not yet arrived from New York. Within the next two weeks all members of the troop will have become second class scouts.

Miss Sharpe says that so far as she knows, Glendale has the only girl scout troop in Los Angeles County. There are a few troops in San Diego, Berkeley and Oakland, but the organizations started in Los Angeles are no longer active. The work and requirements are practically the same as for boy scouts, and the principles upon which the two organizations are founded are identical.

DRAMATIC SECTION OF TUESDAY CLUB PLANS PROGRAM

Members of the Dramatic Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club were delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon by their curator, Mrs. R. E. Chase at her home, 239 North Orange.

Many matters of interest to the section were discussed and plays to be studied the coming year were selected as follows: "The Blue Bird" by Maeterlinck; "Quality Street" by James Barrie; "The Importance of Being Honest" by Oscar Wilde; "The Sins of David" by Stephen Phillips; "The School for Scandal" by Sheridan; "Mary Stuart" by John Drinkwater; "Lulu Betts," the prize play by Zona Gale; and one of the plays by Racine, the French dramatist, not yet decided upon.

The section also decided to give an evening of one-act plays early in the year as a benefit for the Club House Fund. William Ellery Leonard's play, "Glory in the Morning," was read and members unanimously decided to include it in the one-act play program.

Chairmen of committees to arrange for the evening were appointed as follows: Mrs. Frank Ayars, publicity; Mrs. Albert Pearce, program; Mrs. A. H. Andrews, advertising; Mrs. A. P. Findlay, tickets; Mrs. Max Green, properties; Mrs. Barker, make-up; Mrs. A. C. Parker, music.

The section also agreed to give the Christmas program of the Club and on that occasion to put on "Dolls," by Louise Armstrong. Committees for that affair were named as follows: Mrs. A. E. Bode and Mrs. Bert Cline, stage arrangements; Mrs. A. Galvin, properties; Mrs. Roy Kent, lights.

The purchase of an old blue velvet curtain to be used in stage work, was voted, Mrs. W. F. Nash, Mrs. Alma Gibbs and Mrs. W. H. Verity being commissioned to purchase it.

Great enthusiasm developed as plans of work were discussed. After the business had been transacted refreshments of ice cream, sandwiches and cake were served by the hostess, the ladies enjoying her hospitality being: Mesdames J. R. Bentley, A. E. Bode, Colin Cable, Charles H. Temple, Albert Pearce, J. W. Feinstein, Alma Gibbs, Max Green, Roy Kent, Mabel F. Ocker, W. F. Nash, A. P. Findlay, W. H. Verity, W. Barker, Bert Cline, Jesse Joseph, A. C. Parker, and her sister and house guest, Mrs. Meadows.

SAUGUS HIGHWAY NEARS COMPLETION

"The public who travel must feel pleased over the rapid way in which the Highway Commission is pushing the work of completing the state highway from Saugus to Mojave." This was the opinion of Jonathan S. Dodge, now superintendent of banks, but formerly county supervisor.

This highway was one of the pet projects of Superintendent, and no one will be happier than he upon its completion.

"An impartial examination of the road and of its construction," said Mr. Dodge, "should convince the most skeptical that the work now being done is first-class in every respect, and any unjust or unfounded criticism only tends to injure the name of the great state of California."

GUTHRIE MOVING

Charles B. Guthrie is having his real estate office moved from Kenneth road and Grand View avenue to the intersection of the last named street and San Fernando road.

LUNCH HOUR BRINGS USUAL AUTO CRASH

The usual noonday smash took place in front of the Glendale Theatre today. A sedan belonging to the Medical Service Corps and driven by a negro chauffeur, while backing out from the curb, was smashed into by Alex McIntyre, 235 South Everett street, driving a Ford touring car. The latter machine had a front wheel smashed and the sedan a rear wheel similarly treated. No other material damage was done, and neither driver was hurt.

ELKS' DOINGS

The dance next Saturday evening for members and their families is the only thing doing this week at the Elks' lodge.

The ritualistic contest in which Glendale competed with Santa Monica and Los Angeles lodges, came off Monday night in the Glendale lodge hall and Los Angeles officers carried off the honors. This was expected as they do very fine work and have been strenuously trained. Glendale officers made a very creditable showing, however.

At the meeting next Monday night nine new members will be initiated.

A Business Proposition---

If you pay into this Association at the rate of $50.00 per month, you can, at the end of eleven years, cease paying and begin to draw out $600.00 each year FOR THE REMAINDER OF YOUR LIFE, and leave $10,000 to your heirs.

Smaller Sums in the Same Proportion

In case of necessity principal and dividends can be withdrawn at any time on reasonable notice.

If You Will Step Into Our Glendale Office 113 West Broadway

we shall be pleased to explain this proposition in full, without any obligation whatever on your part.

One Born Every Fourth Minute

A LADY with a family of three children didn't want any more because she had heard that every fourth child born in the world was a Chinaman.

As ludicrous, perhaps, as an old misconception some skeptical folks used to have about advertising.

There was a time when some advertisements had to be taken with a grain of salt. A few misguided advertisers thought they could sell their goods better by misrepresenting them. Those advertisers have long since gone out of business or mended their ways. Hard experience taught that untruthful advertising didn't pay.

Other advertisers proved that the only way to advertise successfully, make regular customers, and build up good will was to TELL THE ABSOLUTE TRUTH about their goods in their advertisements. You can depend on the merchant or manufacturer who advertises. The concern that tells you frankly what it is doing is a good concern with which to do business. The store that advertises is a progressive store that has something really worth while to say to you. And companies that advertise their products or their service have confidence in them. You can safely share their confidence.
